This extremely impressive Dechellis built home is located just a short stroll to the coast and offers a multitude of additional benefits that you simply don't find in most residential properties which makes this one worth some serious consideration...

Set on a 720m2 (approx) allotment that is completely and very well fenced making this home very private and secure. The lockable double gates at the front allow for direct access onto a long concrete driveway that leads all the way to the rear of the property and provides plenty of off street parking space.
