5 Albert Street ASCOT PARK SA

3 1 2

This good size solid brick home was built and established in around 1967 and will appeal to the couple or first home buyers that have need for an extra large family room for the growing family.

With original timber floors beneath existing carpets, the interior decor is generally neutral throughout and the kitchen and bathroom are both genuinely original and would respond well to updating and add value.

Both the front and back yards are a very good size but each is in need of re establishing, there is a large lockup carport with auto roller door & room for both cars, and the home has airconditioning for year round comfort.
