Contact Chris Hams or David Hams for more information or to arrange an inspection.

This home presents a great opportunity for those looking to get into the market, investors or anyone looking for a low maintenance home in a great pocket of Huntfield Heights. With polished wooden floors, a split level design and ducted cooling, this home won't last long.

The property has a wide street frontage and neat street appeal, with a single carport at the front of the home. The front door leads into the kitchen, dining and living areas. From here you can appreciate the elevated block, with ocean glimpses and plenty of natural light.
