5 Beaconsfield Terrace ASCOT PARK SA

3 1 4

A rare land holding in a sought after location, this original family home is set on two titles of land both with over 12 metre frontages. The total of the two allotments is 962m2 approximately and the total frontage of over 24 metres lends itself to a vast array of development options subject to council consents. The old family home has been extended to include a sun room, and with such a big block of land there are many parking options under the double length carport or the rear garage.

The solid home requires upgrade, but would make a fine rental proposition for now whilst considering the development options further down the track. For many years the land has provided home grown produce on the fertile soil and the fruit trees and active water bore provide testament to that. A lovely old family home on a piece of
