Huge potential here both as a substantial home on a huge block or an amazing development opportunity. It is so rare to find this size land with the frontage to match, opening up so many options for the next owners.

Whether you want to develop townhouses or create a beachside oasis on the whole land, you won't go wrong securing this sized property in this location.

The house is large with lots of garaging, two huge living areas and two bathrooms so would respond well to renovation. Alternatively it would be very rentable long term
