Ok so this one needs some TLC. Alternatively, you could knock it down, develop the site or build your dream home (STCC). Set on approx. 720m2, and with a frontage of 18.59m this one has great potential.

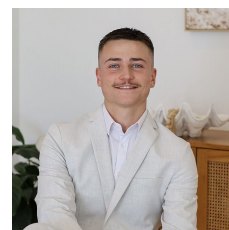

The bones are good. With a bit of elbow grease, this home could be perfect. It appears to be very solid, and it has some great features such as real timber floorboards, big bedrooms, a partially updated kitchen, temp controlled hot water, and ducted reverse cycle heating and cooling. Yes, it needs a new bathroom, but other than that a mostly cosmetic makeover might just do the trick. The kitchen cabinetry is light and bright, and there's a dishwasher already installed. Add your own splashback to finish it off perfectly and bring your own style.
